QUESTION OF BYPRODUCTS

Two Small Concerns To Handle By-Products Alleged to Have Made Enormous Profits.

(By The Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, Dec. 28.—General Reyes, arriving here tonight, he will probably be an unrepresented guest in the military military prison.
There is no definite prison.

Jose Pena del Valle, while a representative of the American Legation here, telegraphed to New Orleans, to tell General Secretary of State, that the Government had been informed that General Diaz had been informed that he would be released if he would not be declared to be the author of the revolution.

The American Legation was in Mexico City and Valle sent telegrams.

It was officially announced that General Diaz was here. Jose Maria de Leon, and Luis Vazquez would be the principal of the court martial before General Diaz, General Francisco Ardiles was descended from one of the Mexican families.

Diaz, who made his first appearance to the public that the government intended to try the extradition of General Arredondo, came from the United States on Sunday.

REYES WILL NOT BE SHOT

Expected He Will Be Given Prison Sentence and Later Paroled.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 28.—
It is not believed that General Manuel Reyes, whose dreams of a higher revolution have been realized, will be sentenced to die.

It is believed that he will be given a prison sentence.

This opinion is based on the fact that he has been in prison since November 1, 1915, and has been tried twice, which time General Diaz has given him a term in prison.

The defense contended that the testimony with regard to these concerns was irrelevant.

The prosecution asserted that it was expected to prove the packers made inadequate allowance for by-products in setting the cost of animal slaughtered which has a direct bearing on the work of the abated animals.

The arguments will be heard tomorrow. Jacob H. Gold, manager of Kobbe, Gold and Company, has been substituted as a witness for the prosecution.

IRON AND STEEL SCHEDULE TO BE REVISED DOWNWARD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The revision of the iron and steel schedule will be the first thing in the tariff legislation program of the House after Congress adjourns next week.

Representative Gandy, chairman of the appropriations committee, said he knew today that the committee would postpone consideration of the bill until after the Senate's report on the bill is submitted.

In the meantime, it will press the work on the other 1918 matters with a view to adjournment as far as co-sponsoring committees.

(Call-Herald Special)

PERIN, Dec. 28.—In response to a direct request from the Russian government that China promptly resists control of Mongolia, the Chinese government has declared its inability to comply now. The only action the government is able to take regarding Mongolia, the independence of which has been proclaimed, is the appointment of two commissioners who have orders to urge the chief city to permit the Mongol authorities if possible to renew allegiance to China, in view of the present crisis. However, it is possible they may never leave Pekin.

The independence movement in Mongolia is largely religious. The christianization of the Mongolian people is of long standing. The Russians say, because of Chinese incapacity and corruption.

The Russians assert the Chinese have been aggravating Russia for several years, and it has been an effort to sustain their military forces on the Mongolian frontier.

Russia refused the Mongol appeal for the establishment of a protectorate last July, but the present step is apparently only a diplomatic one. In the Chinese program of expansion.

It is anticipated however, that the Mongolian princes who assembled in Pekin today, will probably accept the terms from the Pekin government as they are not able to defend themselves.

To War On Tip Evil.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 28.—"To tip or not to tip" is one of the important questions before the convention of the Knights of Pythias, opened today in this city. Michigan traveling salesmen have been asked to join in a country-wide movement for the abolition of the tipping evil, and it is probable that waiters and other house servants and Pullman car porters will hereafter get scant pickings from the "drummers" of this state.

SUSPECT IN REED.

(Call-Herald Special)

Within the next twenty-four hours developments are expected that will reveal the murderer of G. J. Laryansky, a jeweler of Laredo, who was killed in his place of business and robbed of $20,000 worth of diamonds last Friday.

Sheriff Tobin has a white in estody here whom he suspects of knowing something of the murder and through this man he expects to acquire information which will result in the arrest of the murderer.

The murdered man was a brother of A. Laryansky, a jeweler of the city, and he brought the man here for interment in the Jewish cemetery.
